MR. AND MRS. O. F. HOLLANDSHEAD

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Hollandshead calling at their home Sunday will be entertained with musical numbers furnished by an orchestra composed of five of the elderly couple's grandchildren. Mrs. Avery Hollandshead, piano; Miss Pare Cox of Upper Sandusky; saxophone, Miss Helen McCleary; violin, Paul McCleary; cornet, and Clarence Fox of Upper Sandusky; trombone.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Hollandshead include Mrs. M. C. Brady of Flint, Mich.; E. J. Hollandshead, E. Center-st, Mrs. Lloyd McCleary, Lauroette; Mrs. Herman Fox, Upper Sandusky; Mrs. William Crawford, Silver-st, Avery Hollandshead; N. Grandav, Ralph Hall, Galion, and Mrs. Robert Gander of Lancaster, Penn. A son, Hoyt M. Hollandshead, was killed in active service in the World War in 1917.

Two other occupants of the car in which Mrs. Pearce was riding also were injured and are in the Bucyrus hospital. They are Mrs. John Shantz and John Pearce, husband of the seriously injured woman, both of whom suffered severe cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Pearce is suffering from a fracture at the base of the skull. Mr. Crawford also suffered a fractured skull and broken ribs. His injuries are due to attending physician, are not necessarily fatal.

Two Escape Injury

Orville Bishop and John Shantz, driver of the car carrying the Mansfield persons, escaped unharmed.

The accident occurred about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the intersection of the Nevada and Upper Sandusky-Bucyrus-rids. The five persons from Mansfield were returning to their homes after attending the funeral of J. W. Bishop at the Salem Evangelical Church, located several miles west of the scene of the accident.

Crawford was traveling north on the Nevada-rid. His Buick coupe was struck broadside. Both cars, the other a Veto, were demolished.

Passing motorists took the injured from the Veto car to the Bucyrus hospital while Crawford was taken to the office of Dr. V. K. Knapp of Nevada. He was later removed to the City Hospital.

Crawford is a salesman for an electric washing machine company of Springfield.

Unless backers of the measure are able to force quick action the measure may be allowed to die in committee or brought out with most of its teeth drawn.

Representative Hersey, Republican, of Maine, chairman of the House Judiciary Sub-Committee which is handling the bill, declared today that there is no possibility of a favorable report on the bill as it passed the Senate.

"The committee won't report anything more than a registration bill, if it reports that," Hersey asserted positively.

The Caraway bill provides not only for registration of all lobbyists under heavy penalty, but also would force them to disclose the fees that are paid for influencing legislation and expenses received.

LASKER'S GIFT NOT ON BOOKS OF FRED UPHAM

"Dummy" Contribution of $5,000 Found, However; Denies He Tried To Buy Star

Washington, March 24—Albert D. Lasker, former chairman of the United States Shipping Board, contributed $25,000 to the Republican cause in 1920 when no record was made by the late Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, it was revealed yesterday by the Harding Memorial Association executive committee. The arrangement has been stated, depend largely upon the wishes of President Coolidge, who is to deliver the dedicatory address.

Lasker testified he gave the money to Upham. The Upham records for 1920 showed no such contribution.

An effort of the Senate committee to subpoena Harry F. Sinclair's security records was blocked by the oil man, it was revealed yesterday by Harold Kemwell, his secretary. Kemwell who was subpoenaed to bring the security records with him told the committee that Sinclair refused to allow him to touch the records.

No Record of Proffer

Kemwell revealed that there was no record on Sinclair's books for the oil man's proffer of $25,000 in Liberty Bonds to M. T. Everhart, son-in-law of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall. Sinclair "loaned" Fall $225,000 all in Liberty Bonds, according to Everhart. Kemwell also denied there were any records on Sinclair's books for the $260,000 in Liberty Bonds which Sinclair turned over to Will H. Hays, former Republican national chairman.

Lasker denied making a $5,000 contribution in the years 1921, 1922 or 1923. He was credited with such a gift on Upham's books. This brought the total of "dummy" contributions to $65,500. Lasker said he could not understand why he should be credited with this gift.

Denies Purchase Attempt

Asked whether he ever discussed politics or Republican finances with former Attorney General Daugherty, the late Jesse Smith or Howard Manton, Lasker said:

"I never discussed anything with them but the weather."

He asked Lasker whether he ever tried to buy the late President Harding's newspaper, the Marion Star with anyone, said Lasker. "What would I want with it? I am not a publisher. I am an advertising man."

Lasker denied it.

"I never discussed the ownership of the Marion Star with anyone," said Lasker. "What would I want with it? I am not a publisher. I am an advertising man."

LOCAL BOY KILLED, BROTHER INJURED

Fatality Occurs When Lads Come in Contact with Elec- tric Transformer

The boy who died in the accident was identified by several of the youths who had been injured in the accident as being the son of the man who was the attorney for the plaintiff's side in the action.

Mr. Rosewald gave $500,000 to the family, a sum which is religiously believed to be the largest gift ever made by an attorney for his clients, and $10,000
was given to the church.

Mr. M. H. Ginder, a sister's son, had an open heart operation after the suit had been filed, and the doctor reaching for the heart between the pocket books of his son, the inside.

But the gossips, so diligent with the 10,000 words written to the press,
had failed to notice a pocket book
was tucked in the coat pocket.

He was rushed to the Hospital of the M. H. Ginder family.

Neighbors Stamp Out Fire

Neighbors came to the scene to rescue the one boy who was carried to the hospital and taken to the Hess Market & Annex Hospital. Later
the boy was referred to as the M. H.
Ginder family.

No neighbors from Central Station immediately came to stamp out the grass fire.

Both boys, the older a student in the second grade and a younger a first grade pupil, were returning from school when the accident occurred. They had separated from a group of school children, their home and had gone to the field in which the transformer is located to play.

Jack Denison, boy was born in Monroe County July 13, 1910, coming to Marion six years ago with his parents.

Survived, with his parents and the younger brother are two sisters, Myrtle Louise and Martha Elinor Cox and another brother, Raymond (Lynn) Cox, all at home.

Affirmative Team Victor Over Defensive, but Bows to Galion Here

Harding High School scored a victory and a loss in the triangle debate with Delaware and Galion High Schools last night. Hardings affirmative team, which debated Delaware's negative at Delaware, scored 2 to 1 victory, while the negative team, which debated Galion's affirmative at Central Junior High School here lost with a like vote. All visiting teams throughout the triangle were victorious.

The question was "Resolved that the classification of property for taxation be adopted in Ohio in place of the present uniform rule of taxation."

Both teams were present at the debate.

Six applications for membership
were received at the meeting last night.

PRESENT DRILL

Children of Central Christian Church
Give Bible Exercise

More than 100 children took part in the Drill which featured the revival service last night at Central Christian Church. The auditorium was filled to capacity for the meeting. The service was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Tuckerman of Huntington, W.
Va., who have assisted with the evangelistic meetings.

Rev. J. J. Tisdell of Mansfield evangelist spoke on the subject, "The Door is Closed," he said in part.
"You shut yourself out of the fellow ship of Christ. God desires us all to become His children by adoption. You can be His by accepting His conditions. Why close the door when Jesus is knocking to come in?"

There were 15 responses to an invitation to the altar.

Rev. A. H. Wilson, pastor of the Christian Church at Wilmot, O., led in prayer. There will be no service tonight and the revival will be brought to a close on Sunday.

OPEN WARFARE ON
RECKLESS MOTORISTS

Obey and, March 24.—Aroused by six traffic deaths here during the past 24 hours, Marion Commissioner Edward J.
Dougherty today started a relentless warfare against reckless motorists.

One child was killed and two others were injured, fatally injured, while roller skating late yesterday, when a woman, first learning to drive, ran into a car on the sidewalk, causing the child to fall onto the porch of a house.

THE LEAKY GAS RANGE CAUSES
INSURANCE AGENT'S DEATH

Lansing, Mich., March 21.—A gas range is blamed today for the death of Morris Montgomery, insurance agent. Mrs. Montgomery, and Jordan Raynor, 24-year-old Michigan State College student, were overcome by the fumes, but are recovering. Montgomery is from Lorain, Ohio.

Montgomery was a son of the late Robert Montgomery, former supreme court justice of Michigan and judge of the customs appeal court, at Washington.

See the Sykodoner Man today,
and let him show you the most amazing phenomena of all your life. Something so mysterious and marvelous, that you will ever after wonder how it was all done. Yet, it is here, in Marion now.
Don't fail to see it. There is no contract or obligation, whatsoever. If you cannot call, ask one of our nurses to visit you, and demonstrate it to you, in the comfort of your own home. You will ever after bless the day you did so like scores and scores of others who are now enjoying better health—the very best thing you will ever get in this life, at least. No one is turned away—whether rich or poor. No drugs, surgery, serum, or rubbing. Reserve now;
appointment now; for at times, lately,
the crowds could not even get into the door. Hours: 8 to 6, daily; also evenings and Sunday forenoons.

Do a kind act by sending this to an afflicted friend.—

Old-Timer From StageNEWS OF MOVIES IN CINEMA CAPITAL*Picked to Play Noah

By LOUILLA O. PARSONS

Star Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, March 24—Noah has been chosen. Paul McAllister, an old-time stage actor, will play what has been the most discussed part in Hollywood for many and many a day.

But Noah is not the last. No indeed. Now, prepare for a surprise.

George O'Brien, heretofore associated solely with Fox drama, has been chosen for Noah, opposite Dolores Costello in "Noah's Ark."

But first, just for a minute, Jack Warner and Harry Zanuck at Warner Brothers wanted to admit that George O'Brien was the choice. But we have ways of finding out things and we don't use say so's anymore or, if we do, it's illegal. So, George O'Brien plays the part.

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood collected at random:

"Ladies prefer white," Witness Claire Windsor, Mrs. Jack Dempsey.

and Mrs. Jacobs McLean, widow of former state senator, was at the Ambassador.

The party consisted of Edward Stagg, director.

Robert Elliott, George Stanford, Dennis, the Denison University students.

Actor Von Eltz, George Kibbey, Anna May, Margaret Schell, members of Granville Society for the Arts, were at the party.

Then and Now
Doctors' Offices
Spring Insults

BY EDNA S. DUTTON

THEIR has been a great upturn on the clothes question and even yet there are those who recall with a tinge of regret in their voices the days when skirts were skirts and not just a lot of covering that would make a "bathing" of grandma's day look like some of Oscar's creations. Till wages that daughters leave a tigh of relief over in reformation when they chance to wear their elders' fashions over the good old days, when I attended school entertainment recently where the participants ranged in ages from six to 11 or 12, and till but the hole in a garment here wasn't a half dozen pairs of cotton socks in the lot. They were either silk or the finest of good looking wool ones. And the easy graceful way in which they moved through the exercises, which included demonstrations of refined gymnastics, unhampered by the bulky long ones of other days. The day isn't so far lost in the land of Limbo that such feet would be courting suicide, at least if one tried it before all the relatives were dead sure that spring had arrived at last and it really would be safe to go into lighter apparel. It probably is a good thing that this phase of health preservation and encouragement was not stressed in the days of the three R's, or head writers on newspapers would design such captions as "Ozone to Head in Gym Class" or "Straighten When Hand Becomes Entangled in String of Asbestos Bag Around Neck of Third Grade Pupil."

During the program hour Mrs. Leese and Mrs. Bauer were presented gifts from the temple by Mrs. Ruth Shoots. Flowers which were used to decorate the hall and tables for the meeting were distributed to members of the organization who are ill.

Guests included Mrs. Leese, of Forest; Mrs. Jessie Leese, of Kenton, grand trustee of the Pythian Sisters Home, at Medium; Mrs. Clara Kennedy, of Kokomo, Ind.; Mrs. Margaret Geisinger, of Willard, and a large number of members of the temples at Kenton, Forest, Prospect, Waldo and Marion Temple, No. 381, this city.

ONCE in every doctor's office seems to have been the slogan of some high powered salesman and he evidently got away with it. At least it seems so to me. Look for yourself the next time you have occasion to while away a pleasant half-hour in the office of your family physician. It don't happen to have learned the title, if it has one, but I am inclined to believe that one is supposed to manufacture their own title just the same as they weave their own story of the picture. There's the beautiful child, ill on a couple of chairs, the mother, prostrate with grief, the kindly and thoughtful doctor and lastly, the hopeful father. It isn't so bad after all and I am sure that aside from their own temporary personal discomfort and the painful ordeal of laying down their own hard cash, it's the one item in the office that they remember.

WHAT we took to be an expression of the glad springtime was the bursting forth of a dapper young man of the office in a festive light-colored suit yesterday but we were informed otherwise in an very uncertain tone or words. After getting the usual razzleberries from his own department he entered our sanctum to be greeted with another outburst of "Spring has come." "Aw, can't a fellow send his old suit to the cleaners without everybody having to know about it," he retorted and the way he let the door go shut we knew the subject was closed as far as he was concerned.

MODERN BATHROOM FIXTURE DISPLAY

ONLY BUSINESS OF KIND HERE

Service of Fine Display Room Offered Public by Local Concern

One of the newer business which has located in Marion within the past year is The Dreher Supply Co., 184 N. Main St. This is the only business of its kind in the city and has made itself an essential part of the city's building trade.

The Dreher company offers the service of its fine display room pictured here to the public and it is becoming quite popular among those who are thinking of building or remodeling their homes. The bathroom and kitchen are fast becoming important rooms in the house and rightly, for they render the most service. Because of this tendency, more thought is being given to plumbing and heating.

With a fine selection on display of plumbing and heating supplies at all times, the public can see the cheapest and the best. All prices are plainly marked and a courteous attendant explains the difference in the fixtures and their function. With this display, Marion and vicinity have the same advantages as the larger cities.

S. M. Swanner of 291 Forest St. is manager of the establishment and with years of experience in this line of work, offers every patron the benefit of his advise on selection of fixtures.

NEW FLOOD BILL IS PRAISED, CRITICIZED

Compromise Measure Placates Group That Wanted Tributary Production

Washington, March 24.—The new compromise Mississippi flood control bill was praised and criticized by the various interested factions today.

While the measure was regarded as less satisfactory than the original Jones bill by the president, who has stood out for part payment by the states, it has placated the group which demanded tributary protection. Senator Willis, Republican of Ohio, who spoke for the tributary group, said the bill was the best way out of a bad situation, and House flood control leaders characterized the new measure as a "great step forward."

"I think the administrative features are not so good," Willis declared, but added, "there must be some bill, however, so I intend to support it in its main features." He said the plan provided "too much supervision." The bill will be introduced in the Senate Monday by Senator Jones, Republican of Washington.

Although the bill was unanimously agreed upon yesterday, it was learned today that all members of the Senate Commerce Committee reserved the right to object to different sections on the floor.

The new bill's principal departure from previous plans is in its provision for tributary waters, and elimination of the old section imposing payment of one-third of the cost of building the levees up to the 1914 level on the states. It also enlarges the membership of the governing board from three to five persons, adding one civilian engineer and secretary of war to the list.

bolts are being used until enough of the structure is completed to assure no change will be necessary.

Work at both the new C. D. & M. interurban station and the business block being erected by C. A. Curtis at W. Center St. and Cambey St. is progressing rapidly. Brick for the second story of the C. D. & M. building are being laid while the walls of the Curtis building are going up rapidly.

An electrically operated siphon has been invented for removing old grease from automobiles and other machinery and replacing it with fresh lubricant.

Speakers are plentiful in the vicinity of the theater as the huge steel beams are lifted into place by the powerful hoists and bolted together by the steel workers who climb the upright beams with ease and dangle by one arm or one leg, as they bring the connecting joints into line. The automatic riveters have not been started permanently riveting the joints together.

County Meet Will Enter Semi-Finals

Central Five Wins Junior High Championship

and Lewis Defeats Pleasant Team, 50 to 8; Harding Hi-Y and Wildcats Win Class B Contests at Y. M. C. A.

K. KARL R. McELROY
Sports Editor

McElroy found the close of Marion County's Junior High School tournament at Marion last night when Marion, Harding Hi-Y and Pleasant entered the semi-finals. The night and day contests will decide the Class A championships.

Lewis, boasting of wins from the Hardings, walked right into winning 50 to 8. The two points in the Class A games were held in the final period when more contests, Marion, 10, and Pleasant, 10, were played to a draw.

Lewis, 10, and Pleasant, 12, in the first period, of the last two, were the outstanding star with 15 points, 10 markers. This was played in the Class A games.

Young Gillis, 10, of the Wilders overcame 13. He scored a total of 8. Marys was unable to score the basket which would have defeated.

At least at the end of the Harding Hi-Y eagles defeated Ashtabula Preps, 28 to 26, but 6 to 2 at the end of the period, but at the half the Wilders pulled a one point advantage.

As far as class all the way and the most interesting game was the 10th. Pleasant pulled out the win in the last half with
